Goble Studios ~ the fine art of everyday inspirations

Winter 2010

Hello from Goble Studios~

Welcome to 2010! I hope you enjoyed the Christmas season, and had a festive New Year's celebration. Steve and I were thankful for the slower pace of Christmas after the whirlwind of last fall. We bought a house and moved in November, and were busy cleaning and packing, then cleaning and unpacking. All the while, I was working on artwork and preparing for several exhibits. Now that we're (mostly) settled in, it's time to reflect on the past events of 2009, and start planning for events in the New Year.

New Work

Rusty graphite 5"x 7"

Bogey graphite 8"x 10"

Rusty is a playful Labradoodle who lives with our former neighbors. He was a wonderful friend and playmate to our two dogs, and I can tell that they miss him a little. I wasn't able to have the pleasure of meeting Bogey, but I'm certain that meeting him would have been a pleasure. He's a Goldendoodle whose heart-shaped tag signifies that he is a therapy dog.

Events and Opportunities

Art in the Home 2009

It was another wonderful afternoon with artwork, friends, and food at the annual Art in the Home event. Several artist friends and I displayed our artwork on December 6th in a home beautifully decorated for the holidays. Art in the Home 2010 is already set for Sunday, December 5th, and we're looking forward to seeing you there!

Pawsabilities 2010

This is a 2-day, fun-filled event that benefits Susquehanna Service Dogs (an agency of Keystone Children and Family Services). There will be vendors selling dog toys and treats, and doggy gift items for humans, as well as demonstrations and a children's activity area. If you have a dog, feel free to bring it and enter the dog events including the dog Olympic Games, or just walk around and enjoy. We attended last year's Pawsabilities without our dogs and still had a good time looking around and meeting everyone else.

This year, Goble Studios will be there at a booth with my pet portraits, taking orders for custom hand-drawn portraits and offering gift certificates.

I invite you to join the fun (with or without a dog), and I encourage you to stop by and say hello!
